Died: 2 Aug 1724 Windham/Lebanon CT

Ann was born in Norwich in 1677 and moved with her mother and father to Windham in 1693. When she was almost twenty-two, she married Hezekiah Mason. His father, Major General Daniel Mason, led the troops that subdued the Pequot Indian Tribe. Ann and Hezekiah lived in Windham until 1705/1707 when they moved to Lebanon CT where their fifth child, a daughter, was born.

Ann died before 1725 when her widowed husband, Hezekiah, married Sarah Robinson. Hezekiah died the next year and presumably left the minor Mason-Bingham children, Daniel, Jonathan, Lydia, and Abigail to be raised by Sarah Robinson.

UPDATE 2017 - 2019 new bio and children

Ann Bingham was born in Norwich, Connecticut in 1677 and moved with her mother and father to Windham Connecticut in 1693. When Ann was almost twenty-two, she married Hezekiah Mason. Hezekiah's grandfather, Major John Mason, had commanded the Connecticut forces in the Pequot War of 1637 and served as Deputy Governor of Connecticut 1660 to 1670. His father, Daniel, Sr., served as Lieutenant and Captain of the New London militia company. Hezekiah, himself, did not serve in a militia company.

Ann and Hezekiah recorded the births of five children, three in Windham and two in Lebanon. The 1860s Mason Family genealogy attributed nine children to Ann and Hezekiah, but gave birth dates for only the five, but two with different names. Since then, researchers have copied one source or another, but never solved the discrepancy. We will simply state what the records show and what the 1860 Mason Family genealogy printed.

Windham records show Rachel, Hannah, Jonathan: Rachel born 12 Apr 1701 and died 2 days later Apr 14; Hannah born 14 June 1702; Jonathan born 30 July 1715. Lebanon records show the birth of another Rachel 20 Nov 1704 and Mary 31 Aug 1707.

The 1860s Mason Family article in the NEHGR gives Rachel and Hannah same as Windham, then Anna born 1704 married Thomas Dimmock of Barnstable; Mary no birth date married David Huntington; Rachael born 31 Aug 1707 married Charles Mudge; Daniel; Jonathan as Windham; Lydia died 7 Oct 1727; Abigail married Jacob Lincoln.®2034

Lebanon was contiguous with Windham. It was not unusual for residents to record vital records where it was most convenient especially if the dwelling was near the town borders.

Recently, a few Mason researchers have attributed some of the children originally assigned to Hezekiah and Ann to one or more of Hezekiah's brothers. Detailed study of original town records is needed.

Ann died 2 Aug 1724. Hezekiah married second, Sarah Robinson, 15 Nov 1725. Hezekiah, however, died the next year, 15 Dec 1726 presumably leaving all Mason-Bingham children born after 1705 in the care of Sarah Robinson.
